

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

BELLORO (Giovanni Tommaso). Notizie d'atti esistenti nel pubblico archivio de' notaj di Savona, concernenti la famiglia di Cristoforo Colombo. Torino. 1810. 8vo, pp. 14. + Genova. 1821. 4565

"This pamphlet having become very scarce, I had it reprinted in 1821."—G. B. SPOTORNO. Unfortunately, Spotorno does not give any title, and I have only been able to obtain one, conjecturally, from the following sentence of Harris (Notes on Columbus, p. 68): "Belloro's essay [in Zach, see below] seems to have been published in a different form, and as early as 1809, since we find a refutation in an anonymous pamphlet (by Giuseppe Nervi): Il Sig. Tommaso Belloro Avv. Savon. Vedi notizie d'atti esistenti nel pubb. arch. de' Notaj. di Savona, concernenti la famiglia di Cristoforo Colombo, stampate a Torino l'anno, 1810. ... 8vo, 14 pp." It is plain that Harris has confounded Giambattista and Tommaso Belloro, and apparently, in preparing his MS. for the press, he has mistaken a note found in some pamphlet of Nervi's for the title of the pamphlet. By Belloro's essay he means a long letter in Baron Zach's "Correspondance astronomique, Gênes, 1818, foll., Vol. xiv., by Giambattista Belloro, expressing doubts whether Christopher Columbus was a Savonese. It is severely criticised by G. B. Spotorno, pp. 298–306 of Tom. iv. of his "Storia letteraria Della Liguria, Genova, 1824–58," 5 vols., 8vo. n. After mentioning a pamphlet on the same subject by Isnardi, Harris continues: "Thereupon Giambattista Belloro penned a powerful reply: 'Appendice dell' avvocato Giambattista Belloro alla rivista critica sopra la patria di Cristoforo Colombo, contra la riposta di un academico di Cogoleto. Genova, 1839, 8vo,' which, it is hardly necessary to add, silenced Cogoleto and Isnardi forever." It is difficult, in this whole account, to determine how much is the result of Harris's personal examination, and how much rests on the authority of others, or on conjecture.

"Relation curieuse et très-intéressante."—LECLERC. The author accompanied Major Long in his second expedition, who remarks: "An Italian whom we met at Fort St. Anthony, attached himself to the expedition, and accompanied us to Pembina. He has recently published a book which we notice merely on account of the fictions and misrepresentations which it contains." The "Revue encyclopédique," 1826, xxix. 457, criticised the work severely, and doubted the discovery. The author replied in a "Lettre sur la découverte d'un manuscrit mexicain," which was printed in Tome xxxii of the Revue, and in the English edition of his "Pilgrimage." See, also, N. A. "Benzoni was born at Milan about 1519. At the age of twenty-two he left his country to visit the New World, and, after fourteen years of travel, returned and published this work. Its style is inelegant, but it deserves to be perused by those interested in the history of the first establishment of the Europeans in America from other than Spanish sources." — TROVENAL.

It is said that, from this work, Kotzebue obtained the foundation of his famous play of "Pizarro." Priced, by Asher, 20fr.; Tross, 15fr.; Puttick, 1860, 11s. of Mr. J. C. Brown's library, another edition of this date is described; the only difference seems to be in the collation — this one containing only 15 l., (text) pp. 480, but no index. See Bartlett's Cat., Vol. 1., Nos. 182 and 183.

"These two collections of letters commence in January, 1768, and reach to July, 1769. So that the two contain a complete view of the political contests and dissensions in the colony of Massachusetts Bay during that period. The copies were obtained and sent to Boston by William Bollan, at the time agent for the council of Massachusetts. 'In our opinion, the gentlemen of the council have greatly the advantage over the governor and the general, with respect to the solidity and force of the arguments used by them, and have completely vindicated themselves from the charges brought against them by the officers of the crown, in their letters to Lord Hillsborough.' — M. R.," xli. pp. 320 and 398.

BERNARD. Select Letters on the Trade and Government of America; and the Principles of Law and Polity, applied to the American Colonies. Written by Governor Bernard, at Boston, In the Years 1763, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8. Now first published: To which are added The Petition of the Assembly of Massachusetts Bay against the Governor, his Answer thereto, and the Order of the King in Council thereon. London: T. Payne. M DCC LXXIV. 8vo, Title, pp. vii, 130. B., H. + The Second Edition. London: T. Payne. 1774. 8vo, Half Title, Title, pp. vii, 130. C. 4925

These letters, published by the Governor himself, throw great light on the affairs of New England at that period. The trial was said to be partial, because the assembly had never been suffered to meet, and consequently could not support the charge, so the Governor was honorably acquitted. See Ann. Reg. 1770. 76; M. R., L. 412; Rich, I. 202.

Nearly all the success of this work is owing to its 266 fine engravings. It is a compilation from the writings of R. Simon, J. Abbadie, Boulainvilliers, etc., and "was edited by J. F. Bernard, the minister Bernard, Bruzen de la Martinière, and others. The first volumes were reprinted in 1735 and 1739, with some additions to the text, but the first edition is preferred, because it contains the early impressions of the engravings. A very fine copy sold, St.-Mauris, 3191 fr. Ordinary copies cost from 200 to 250 fr." — BRUNET. Reprinted with the title:

BERNARD. Histoire générale des cérémonies ... représentées en 243 figures dessinées par B. Picart, avec des explications par les abbés Banier et la Mascrier. Paris. 1741. 7 vols., folio.

A few of the plates and the vignettes were newly engraved at Paris by Duflos and others. Bernard reprinted the new dissertations in this edition as Tome VII, 2^e partie of his own, and also added an eighth volume. The Cérémonies reappeared, edited by Poncelin, Paris, Laporte, 1783, 4 vols., folio, to which was added Superstitions orientales, Paris, 1785, folio. Also:

BERTELLI E FORLANI, Tavole moderne di Geografia de la maggior parte del Mondo. Roma. 1558-80. Imp. folio, engraved Title, and 71 large Maps. 5000

"This series of maps, of which sets or copies vary considerably in their extent, was the best, most complete, and most correct atlas that had till then appeared. In the number, there are three large special maps of America, North and South, besides three maps of the World, in which America also appears. It is remarkable, as shown in these maps, how far the chorography of the regions now comprised in Canada and the States was developed seventy years after the discovery of America. Even the quite recent researches of Jacques Cartier were already utilized."

"Dans la première partie de cet écrit, l'auteur entreprend de prouver, que Jacques Cartier ne fit pas naufrage sur un rocher, auquel une tradition erronnée a conservé en Canada, le nom de 'La Roche de Jacques Cartier.' Dans la seconde partie, l'auteur conjecture que le Canon de Bronze ainsi trouvé, a dû appartenir à Verrazzani, et que c'est ce dernier qui fit naufrage dans ce même endroit." — FARIBAUT, No. 56.

Livre septiesme des tables geographiques, auquel est continue L'Amerique, &c. ... contains twelve maps and plates relating to America, and a map of the world. The text is in French. "The first hot-pressed edition of the Bible printed in America." — O'CALLAGHAN. A beautiful edition, and very well printed. The device on the title is the American eagle below an open Bible; the whole surrounded by a lustre and fifteen stars. Vol. i. contains the Old Testament to the end of Psalms, with a handsome copperplate (Baralet fecit. — Lausen sculp.) Vol. ii. contains the rest of the Old Testament, the Apocrypha (in italics, but with no separate title-page) and the New Testament, with a separate title-page; and concludes with the usual Scriptural tables, etc.; and some copies have a list of subscribers (two pages) at the end. The foregoing twenty numbers are believed to include all the American editions of the Bible in English printed before 1800. Further information respecting other American Bibles will be found in O'Callaghan's list of Bibles.

Holy Bible. See (Eliot) John.

Indian versions of parts of the Bible will generally be found under the name of the books, sometimes under the name of the translator, and occasionally under the initiatory word; this irregular arrangement has become necessary, as it was not my intention, at the commencement of this work, to include them. The index will generally indicate the location.

H. 5191

After Eliot's Indian version, this is the first Bible printed in this country, and it is the first in a European language. It is no part of the design of this work to state the reason; it may, however, be briefly observed, that the Bibles could be produced more cheaply abroad, and that their publication in the Colonies was supposed to be interdicted by the patents to the Royal Printers. The type from which the Bible was printed was imported from Frankfort-on-the-Main. One thousand copies were printed, and bound in wooden boards. The volume is very scarce. See "Hist. Mag.," Nov., 1859; III. 325-328.

D. O'Callaghan infers, from the imprint, that this edition was imported in sheets from Germany.

Of this edition three thousand copies were printed, but the greater part was used for cartridge paper at the battle of Germantown. Sowe doubting the capacity of the Colonists to secure their independence, removed to Philadelphia when in possession by the British; his estate was confiscated by the Colonists, and his books were sold.

With an Introductory Discourse on the Present State of Literature in those Countries. London: Printed for J. Debrett, [etc.] M DCC LXXXIX. 4to, 2 l, pp. 271, Errata, 1 l.

This book, which has been variously ascribed to Dalrymple, Homer, Long, and with more probability, by Homer himself, to Reid, was the fullest English work on the subject up to its date; but its complicated arrangements, errors of date, unintelligible abbreviations, and frequent repetitions mar its utility. Some of the remarks in the introduction are curious, if not true. The errata, if all printed, would fill a dozen pages. See M. R., II. 474; Rich, I. 354.

The imprints of the different volumes vary. Andover, at which it has always been printed, appears on the title-page of all but the first volume. In Vols. VIII.—XIX., the title reads: Bibliotheca Sacra and American Biblical Repository, in XV.—XX., and Biblical Repository; after XX. these words are omitted. Many of the volumes contain valuable articles relating to this country.

It is entitled "The Massachusetts Song of Liberty," and, according to Lossing, "is believed to have been written by Mrs. Mercy Warren."

BIOT (Édouard Constant). Mémoire sur la condition de la classe servile au Mexique avant la conquête des Espagnols. Paris: B. Duprat. 1840. 8vo. 5521

Quérard merely mentions a "Note sur la condition des esclaves au Mexique avant l'invasion des Espagnols. — Impr. dans le Journal de la morale chrétienne, t. xx [1841]." The title above, taken from a bookseller's catalogue, perhaps belongs to the same work, which may never have been separately published. It is not mentioned in the "Bibliog. de la France," 1840-41. The "Über die Anlegung," by this author, has the word America in the title, but there is nothing in the work to justify its insertion here.

For a detailed account of Blæu's atlases, see Clément, "Bibl. curieuse," iv. 267–276. J. Jansson and J. Blæu, who have been confounded by some writers, were rival publishers of atlases at Amsterdam. The chronology of these atlases, according to M. Duve, is briefly this: Willem Blæu, who died in 1638, following Gerardus Mercator and Jodocus and Cornelis Hondius, published not long before his death an atlas in 2 vols., to which the brothers Johan and Cornelis Blæu added a 3rd. vol. in 1640 (changing the date of i. and ii. to 1640), a 4th in 1646, a 5th in 1654, and a 6th in 1656. The Atlas Major followed in 1662, and was reprinted in 1665.

This large Atlas, though common formerly, is now becoming scarce. The maps are all on a very large and comprehensive scale, and are taken from early and authentic surveys. The volume relating to America contains a complete digest of the early travels of the Spaniards and English. The map of Bermuda is very curious, giving the names of the English shareholders, amongst whom the native tribes were divided. Priced, in English catalogues, from £7 to £10.

It is a very interesting narration, with a coarse woodcut plan of Caledonia Harbor on page 9. The author says, 'what passages he did not see himself, these he relates as he had them delivered by credible persons, who were eye-witnesses of them when they occurred; and the author being the only person of all the ministers who were sent abroad upon the service of Caledonia, that lived to return to his native country. M DCC LXX. 8vo, pp. 28, Appendix, 31. H. 6735

"A defence of the massacre at Boston. The author is a zealous advocate for the soldiers, and endeavors to prove that their firing upon their assailants was, if not wholly unavoidable, at least highly excusable; that they were provoked to it by the most unsufferable insults, and that the people were entirely the aggressors. He supports his representations by the affidavits of twenty-nine persons; most of whom, however, it will be observed, are officers in the army."—M. R., XLIII. 68.

Letters from the Town of Boston to C. Lucas, Esq., inclosing a Narrative of the Massacre perpetrated there March 5, 1770, by the Soldiers of the 29th Regiment, &c. Dublin, Reprinted.
[1770.] 6736

Title from one of Puttick and Simpson's catalogues, about 1860.

Orations delivered at the Request of the Inhabitants of the Town of Boston, to commemorate the Evening of the Fifth of March, 1770; When a Number of Citizens were killed by a Party of British Troops, quartered among them, in a Time of Peace. Boston: Printed by Peter Edes, in State-Street. [1785?] 16mo, pp. 200, (Errata) 1 slip. H. + Second Edition. Boston: Wm. T. Clap. 1807. 12mo, pp. 198, (Index) 1 l. C.

The orations are by James Lovell, A.M., Dr. Benj. Church, Dr. Joseph Warren (of Bunker Hill fame), Benj. Hichborn, William Tudor, Jonathan Mason, Jr., Thos. Dawes, Jr., and John Hancock. Also an oration by Perez Morton, on the reinterment of the remains of Joseph Warren, April 8th, 1776:

The Poem which the Committee of the Town of Boston had voted unanimously to be Published with the late Oration; with Observations relating thereto; Together with some very pertinent Extracts from an ingenious Composition never yet published. Boston: E. Russell. M, DCC, LXXII. 4to, pp. 30. P. +
Boston. 1785. 12mo. 6738

An ironical piece, which completely imposed on the committee, who unanimously voted to print it with Warren's Oration on 5th March, and Mr. Samuel Adams carried it to the printer; but, it leaking out that the author was a warm Tory, the committee reconsidered the matter, and discovered the jest. The author was James Allen, concerning whom see Duyckinck, I. 235. See also Vol. I., No. 833, in this Dictionary.

A Short Narrative of the Horrid Massacre in Boston, perpetrated in the Evening of the Fifth Day of March, 1770. Additional Observations to A Short Narrative of the Horrid Massacre in Boston, perpetrated In the Evening of the 5th of March 1770. Printed by Order of the Town of Boston. M DCC LXX. 8vo, pp. 12. 6741

Forms a supplement to the Short Narrative. See the following note: "The copies of this narrative sent to England and other parts, conclude with the foregoing page. Since they were sent, it has appeared necessary to add a few pages to the remaining copies: to do which an opportunity has been given by the restraint laid on the publishing of the said narrative here. The reason of that restraint will appear by the following vote of the town, passed at the town-meeting held on the 26th of March, namely: 'The committee appointed to prepare a true state of facts relating to the execrable massacre perpetrated on the evening of the 5th instant, in order that the same be transmitted to Great Britain, having accordingly reported, and the report being accepted by the town, and ordered to be printed: And whereas the publishing of the said narrative with the depositions accompanying it, in this country, may be supposed by the unhappy persons now in custody for trial, as tending to give an undue bias to the minds of the jury who are to try the same. Therefore voted, That the committee reserve all printed copies in their hands excepting those to be sent to Great Britain, till the further order of the town.' "

"The curious and learned author of this work arrived in Mexico in 1750; and, desirous of writing the history of that kingdom, he made, during eight years he remained there, the most diligent researches into its antiquity; acquired a considerable mastery of the Mexican language, entered into friendship with the Indians to obtain their ancient pictures from them, and procured copies of many valuable manuscripts which were in the libraries of the monasteries." — CLAVIGERO. And see Bartolache's "Manifiesto," pp. 42, 43, Prescott's "Mexico," Bustamente (C. M.), etc. The appendix to this work is of the highest bibliographical interest. It contains a catalogue of a rich collection of books, MSS., and maps, relating to the early history of Mexico, which Boturini made during his travels in the middle of the last century, and which, unfortunately, is now lost. In consequence of a legal process, in which Boturini was cast, the whole of his museum was confiscated by the Viceroy of Mexico (1743), and has been given up, since that period, to the destroying hand of time. It was first deposited in the Office of the Secretary Viceroy, where it sustained heavy damages by the neglect of its keepers. What remained was transferred, at a later period, to the library of the university, and reduced there, by the same unfortunate circumstances, almost to nothing. The last remains of the collection were kept, in 1853, in the Museo Nacional of Mexico. See Icazbalzeta's "Notice on the Life and Writings of Boturini" in the "Diccionario universal de historia y de geografia," Vol. 1., pp. 666. Mexico. 1853. "Ce livre est rare en Europe. ... N. A Londres et Paris: Bastian. 8vo, pp. vii, 507. 6897

With a different title, this forms Vol. x. of Béranger's "Collection abrégé des voyages." It is taken from the papers of M. B * * * (Bourgeois), "secretary of the chamber of Agriculture of the Cape," by his nephew M. N. (Nougaret). Richardiere says that "the most interesting part of the work is that which relates to the islands of Portorico, Curassoa, Grenada, and the Bermudas, and to New Mexico: about which places it would be difficult to find such interesting and satisfactory details in any other work." It bears sufficient evidence, in typographical execution, of having been printed in France. The "Monthly Review," LXXX. 1789, says "the work is ill written. We should suspect Monsr. N. not to be a native of France. His remarkable anecdotes are neither amusing nor instructive. Compared with the pompous title, this work is one illustration, among many, of the parturient montes." See also Boucher.

"Readers may get some idea of the difficulties which attend the compilation of such a work as the present by comparing the title above with the form in which I first found it, in one of the catalogues published by Charles B. Norton, New York, 1858, from which it has been restored by conjectural emendation. 'Ansichten von Louisiana nebst einem Tagebuche einer, im Jahre, 1811, den Missouri. Fluss aufwärts gemachte Reise. Von H. M. Brackenridge. Weimar. 1818. 8vo.' The words 'Aus dem Englischen' and 'Ind.-Compt.' are taken from another source, which, however, gave only the first three words of the title. It is but fair to add that this is an unusually bad case."—C. A. C.

The frontispiece prefixed to this book, "The Death of Warren," engraved by Norman, is said to be the earliest known specimen of engraving in British America by a native artist. The drama appears to have been actually represented on the stage. I have seen it attributed to John Burk, who wrote a piece with a somewhat similar title. See Burk (John). Sold at Puttick's, 1860, for £1 15s.

BRACKENRIDGE. Incidents of the Insurrection in the Western Parts of Pennsylvania, In the Year 1794. By Hugh H. Brackenridge. Philadelphia: John McCulloch. 1795. 8vo, Title, 1 l., pp. 5-124; [Vol. II.], pp. 84; [Vol. III.], pp. 154.

A scarce book, in defence of the author and the subject. "It was at first intended to publish this work in three vols., with an appendix to each vol., &c. ... But this plan was relinquished, and it was judged best to publish the whole in one vol." (pp. 154.) This accounts for the three paginations; that the second and third begin with page 5 is, perhaps, owing to title-pages, etc., being dropped. See Brackenridge (H. M.), No. 7166 supra.

BRADFORD (Wm). See Budd (Thomas) and Keith (George).

The catalogue of the American Antiquarian Society quotes an "Account of his Trial at Philadelphia," as by Bradford. It is more probably by George Keith, under whose name we give the title correctly. The following notice is from Joseph

Smith's Catalogue of Friends' books, and is here introduced on account of the interest attached to his name : " William Bradford was born in Leicester, about the year 1659. He was placed as an apprentice to learn the printing business with Andrew Sowle in London. Whilst in this situation, he appears to have been convinced of Friends' principles, and was admitted into membership among them. Shortly after he was of age he married Elizabeth Sowle, a daughter of his late master, and then went over to America. This was in 1682 or 1683. A Certificate of Devonshire House Monthly Meeting, recommending William Bradford and Elizabeth his wife, as members of the Society of Friends, was read in Philadelphia Monthly Meeting, held the 4th of the 11th month, 1685, and accepted. They were not, however, settled in Philadelphia, but in Oxford township; and belonged to Oxford Monthly Meeting. His press was probably at Burlington, or at Chester, or at Kensington. Having received his printing materials from England, William Bradford was now ready to carry on business. The first work that he printed appears to have been 'An Epistle of John Burnyeat's, in 1686.' In the year 1687, he issued a prospectus for publishing by subscription a folio Bible with notes, but not receiving sufficient encouragement, the work was relinquished. In the year 1691, he joined with George Keith in his controversy with the Society, and in 1692 wished to be discharged from the engagement as Friends' printer. He removed to New York with his press in 1693, and was appointed printer to the government. There he continued to reside until 5th month 23rd, 1752, when he suddenly deceased, aged 94 years." He signed many books and papers during the Keithian controversy. It is scarcely necessary to add, that Bradford being the first printer in the Middle Colonies, books printed by him are eagerly sought for by the American collector; many of them are printed without a separate title-page, but their completeness is ascertained by the paging and signatures. For a list of books printed by Bradford, see the index to this work, and J. W. Wallace's "Address."

BRISOT DE WARVILLE. Examen critique des voyages dans l'Amérique Septentrionale, de M. le Marquis de Cha[s]tellux; ou lettre ... Dans laquelle on réfute principalement ses opinions sur les Quakers, sur les Negres, sur le Peuple, et sur l'Homme. Par J. Brissot de Warville. ... Londres [Paris]. 1786. 8vo, 2 l., pp. 143. B., C. 8019

"A spirited writer here attacks the Marquis for having, in the publication of his travels, exposed to ridicule, and grossly misrepresented the principles and manners of the Quakers; he also endeavors to show that the Marquis's reflections on the slavery of the negroes, and his thoughts on the condition of mankind, with respect to the ranks in society, are often unjust. M. de Warville's language is forcible, his arguments are striking, if not always conclusive, and his work is replete with liberal sentiments on religious and political subjects." — M. R., LXXVI. 337.

The author came to the United States just before the French Revolution, for the purpose of selecting a suitable place for establishing a colony of respectable persons, who had determined to abandon the then despotic government of France, and seek an asylum under the mild and equal government of the United States. M. Brissot was commissioned to collect every necessary information, prior to the execution of so important a plan. These volumes contain the result of his assiduous labors, and minute enquiries, and sufficiently manifest that he was qualified to accomplish such an arduous undertaking. The second volume is a new edition of Brissot and Clavière's "De la France, et des États-Unis," etc., printed at Paris in 1787, and in English in 1788. See No. 8016.

BRITO FREIRE. Nova|Lusitania,|historia da|guerra|Brasilica|a|purissima alma|e|saudosa memoria|do serenissimo principe|Dom Theodosio|principe de Portvgal,|e|principe do Brasil.|Por|Francisco de Brito Freyre.|Decada primeira.|Lisboa|na officina de Joam Galram.|Anno 1675.|Folio, engraved and printed title, 7 l., pp. 460. Bt. 8130

Meusel, Vol. III., pt. 2, p. 58, seems to be puzzled by the name Freyre, but in the work itself (p. 105), mention is made of an Estevan de Brito Freyre, and of a Joano Machado de Brito, Senhor das Villas de Sanseris and Frieiras. This important work should be consulted for the history of the war between the Portuguese and Dutch. Ternaux, No. 917, remarks: "Ce volume très-rare et qu'Antonio n'avait jamais vu: car il dit en le citant, 'Olysepeone circiter annum 1667 prodiisse dicitur,' ne contient que la première décade; le premier livre rapporte l'histoire de la découverte du Brésil et des premiers établissemens qu'on y fonda; les neuf autres sont consacrés à l'histoire de la guerre contre les Hollandais de 1623 à 1638. Brito joua lui-même un rôle distingué dans cette guerre, car il commanda la flotte en 1655 et 1656." See Silva's Dic. Bibl., II. 361, where it is quoted at 3600 to 4000 reis. The following work is usually bound up with it:

BRITO FREIRE. Viage|da armada|Da companhia do|commercio, e frotas|do estado do Brasil.|A cargo do General|Francisco de Brito Freyre.|Impressa|por mandado de|el rey|nosso|senhor.|Anno 1655.|Folio, Title, 3 l., pp. 64, 20 l. Bt. 8131

From the "Decreto," dated 1657, it is evidently printed at Lisbon. No mention is made of this work by Netscher in his "Hollandais du Brésil."
